Study

The programme offers you a solid foundation for your international management career

The English-language bachelor's degree programme in International Business (BSc) at the Hochschule Bonn-Rhein-Sieg offers you a solid foundation for your international management career. The programme covers international business management methods and in-depth knowledge of financial markets, international trade and globalisation. Furthermore, the students can benefit from the range of specializations which are offered at Hochschule Bonn-Rhein-Sieg University of Applied Sciences and at the university partners all over the world. The specializations allow students to deepen their knowledge and to meet individual goals.

Specialization during the study programme

Specialization takes place through the choice of two main subjects:

- Business-to-Business Marketing
- International Management
- International Financial Management
- Sales Management

Overview
